

NEW ALBUM RELEASE

Dominik Schürmann Ensemble - 'The Seagull's Serenade'
(1st December)

Having released seven co-produced albums under his own name in the last three years alone, prolific Swiss bassist Dominik Schürmann's discography is a testament to his passion and skill for jazz. His large ensemble debut 'The Seagull's Serenade' is set to release on the 1st of December.

The son of a pianist from Basel, Schürmann took to music early and his talent was supported and fostered by his father. He quickly became a sought after bassist on the Swiss Jazz scene, with well over 50 albums to his name, countless tours and performances with the likes of Jorge Rossy, Max Ionata, Hendrik Meurkens, Karl Ratzer, Luis Diego Bonilla, Isla Eckinger and many more.

An experienced composer and aficionado of the Big Band sound, Schürmann challenged himself to arrange a selection of his original repertoire for a 12 piece ensemble. With help from his longtime musical companions George Ricci and Tilman Günther and co-production support from Swiss Radio SF2 Kultur, Schürmann's vision was brought to reality.
